

TURKEYS & EAGLES

There can be found two distinct species in the Christian community: turkeys who flap their wings agitating the air around them and eagles who extend their wings in support of others and are themselves sustained by the very breath of God.